entitled

An Act to provide equality for employees of education, medical and other services under the direction of religious organisations. 5

Be it enacted by the Oireachtas as follows:

Exclusion of discrimination on particular grounds in certain employments

1. Section 37(1) of the Employment Equality Act 1998 is amended by the substitution of the following: 10
 - “37. (1) (a) A religious organisation shall not be taken to discriminate against a person for the purposes of this Part or Part II by giving favourable treatment on the religion ground to an employee or a prospective employee where the religion or belief of the employee constitutes a justified occupational requirement. 15
 - (b) No religious organisation, or body under the direction or control of a religious organisation, may give less favourable treatment on gender, marital status, family status, sexual orientation, religion, age, traveller community, disability grounds or the ground of race to employees or prospective employees in services it operates including educational or medical institutions.”. 20

Short title

2. This Act may be cited as the Employment Equality (Amendment) Act 2015.
