TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Would you please look into a situation in Hazelwood College Secondary School in Dromcollogher where special needs assistants do not work the month of June even though they are paid for same.

They can choose to sit with a special needs child completing state examinations if they so wish but they are paid extra for this. Do you not think they should be required to do this without extra pay especially when they are already being paid for hours for which they don't work in June?
